Danckaert sliding circular saw big 28" blade, works but spares/repair.

£420.00

Danckaert 28" sliding circular saw bench.

All these machines have been sat unused for a considerable time, and are very old. They are sold strictly on a spares or repair basis, not to be considered working fit for purpose. It is the purchasers responsibility to check what (if any!) health and safety requirements any of these machines do or do not meet, also to have any required electrical safety tests carried out prior to use. None are to be considered WORKING, or FIT FOR PURPOSE.

None of the adjusters are seized solid, but everything is a bit tight through sitting unused.

This one was removed from a roller table red setup. As pictured there are NO safety covers in place as all the moving parts were covered by the table. Also the saws own table is incomplete as it used to be attached to the roller table.
